CONDITIONAL ACCEPTANCE

Al Faris-AlUla admits students of any gender, race, color, national or ethnic origin to all rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to school students.

A candidate who gets a mark of 60% and above is qualified and accepted. Those who get 45% up to 61% may be categorized for conditional acceptance.

Conditional Acceptance is an agreement between a school and a student and the parent to tentatively admit the student into a program of study for which the student does not meet all standards for admission. This agreement is contingent upon the student meeting the school-specified set of supplemental conditions intended to qualify the student in the program entirely.

Conditional Acceptance Provisions:

- Learners who fail to meet the placement assessment criteria will undergo another interview where to check the learners' abilities and weaknesses.
- Parents are expected to get involved consistently and work with the school to help improve the child's standing.
- The homeroom and specialist teachers will closely monitor learners for their progress.
- A regular meeting between teachers and parents to regularly discuss the child's standing.
- Learners must be re-assessed to determine if he/she has academically improved and are competent.
- Learners must be attending regularly throughout the three academic terms.
- Granting that the child failed to fulfill the academic requirements after the three terms of the school year, the school will have the right not to accept the child for the following year.
